COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Two representatives of the Maine Aeronautics Commission were in Bethel last Friday to inspect the airport. The inspection was made and the airport meets all of the specifications of a commercial airport. The Commercial Airport License has been received. The inspectors had not seen the airport since the improvements were completed late last fall. They were both very impressed by the amount of work that had been done and it is quite possible that the town will receive some state money to further improve the airport.

The airport now has 2500 feet of graded strip that is 100 feet wide. The number of planes at the airport varies from five to nine with the prospect of another four or five being purchased. There is a great deal of interest at the airport and a lot of activity. It seems that Sunday is the busiest day with a lot of planes and visitors at the strip. It is just a short distance from town, across the road from the Riverside Cemetery on the Northwest Bethel Road, and everyone is invited to look the airport over. I believe that some people might be quite surprised.

The highway crew has been kept quite busy the past few days working on plugged sewers. Two more manholes have been constructed on Park Street. There is a large volume in that line because it starts on Paradise Street and a lot of new connections have been made the last few years. There is also a lot more water used with the new appliances. Therefore a plug on that line will fill a lot of cellars in a short time.

Michael Houlihan

William Kiehn of Woburn, Mass., spent the week end at Mrs. E. O. Donahue's. Mrs. Kiehn and children, who visited her mother last week, returned home Sunday.

Alton Carroll has been enjoying a vacation from his duties at Besserman's Pharmacy. He and Mrs. Carroll return today after a few days visit at the home of their son, Lee, South bridge, Mass.

The second in a series of four Blood Typing Clinics was held at the Legion Rooms Friday, May 1. Two laboratory technicians from the Rumford Community Hospital typed blood of 43 persons. The clerical workers were Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. Edith Smith and Mrs. Virginia Hutchins.

CONSERVATION SCHOOL TO OPEN MAY 11

Maine's Conservation School at Bryant Pond will open May 11 for its eighth season of instructing teachers—and now teaching undergraduates also, according to an announcement by the Fish and Game Department.

Eighteen school groups have taken one-week courses there since the opening. The youth program develops awareness of Maine's natural resources and the need to make the wise use of them, School Director Frank Downie said.

Students from Dixfield will spend the first week at the school this year, followed by groups from Waterville, Farmington and Farmington State Teachers College. Groups from Lewiston, Auburn and FSTC will attend in the fall.

During the summer, regular workshop sessions are held for teachers, who receive college credit for their work. Grange and 4-H units also use the campus.

BIRD HILL FIRE

The Bethel fire department was called to the Bethel section of Bird Hill Friday morning. The property of George Flanders of Locke Mills, a house and barn was burned. It was unoccupied.

Bethel Fire Chief Roderick McMillin said about 10 acres was burned over. The fire was brought under control before it reached the woods. Broken glass was given as a probable cause.

Power line conductors hampered the fire fighters in reaching the buildings with the motorized equipment.

SENIOR CITIZENS TO MEET MAY 12

The next meeting of the Senior Citizens is to be Tuesday May 12 at the Norwanna at 10:30. Mrs. Hilda Ives will be the afternoon speaker.

Citizens over 62 will be welcome as voted at the last meeting.

FIVE TOWN TEACHERS MEET AT LOCKE MILLS

The Five Town Teachers Club was entertained by the Greenwood, Newry and East Bethel teachers Monday evening at the Locke Mills School. The group voted to send a contribution to the Alaska Education Disaster Fund. Clarence Staples of Gardiner showed slides of "Flick the Switch" which is an employee with the Central Maine Power Co. and his future about the many power plants in various areas of Maine was very interesting.

The next and final meeting will be on June 1st to elect club officers.

The Eleanor Gordon Guild's annual mother-daughter banquet will be at the Cambridge Hall Shop and Restaurant Wednesday, May 13 at 6:30 p. m. Mrs. Helen Heller will speak to the group. Her subject will be "Facing the Future".

The Campus Club of the West Parish Congregational Church will meet Monday, May 11. A buffet supper will be served at 6:30 p. m. Guest speaker for the evening will be Patricia Garrison of Chilo, South America.

TRI-COUNTY HEALTH COUNCIL TO MEET IN BETHUEL, MAY 13

The Tri-County Health Council annual meeting is to be held at Bingham Auditorium, Gould Academy, Wednesday, May 13. The Bethel Health and Service Council, Inc., will be host for the day's events.

Registration begins at 10:00 a. m., a small fee being charged for participation in the full schedule, and to defray expenses of the day. A film, "A Family Affair," is set for 10:30; Mrs. Burdick Pierce, president of the local council, and Michael Houlihan, town manager, will greet the assembly at 11:00.

An address by Miss Mary Sullivan, R. N., director of public health nursing for the state, will begin at 11:15.

At noon, luncheon will be served in the dining room of the West Parish Congregational Church.

From 1:00 p. m. to 2:30 p. m., a panel discussion, "The Family's Role in Mental and Social Problems," moderated by Miss Ruth Clough, Health Education Consultant for the state's department of health and welfare, will include talks by Mrs. Mary Mahoney, psychiatric social worker, Maine Medical Center, "Normal Family Relationships," Dr. Pauline McCready, superintendent of Stevens Training Institute, "The Family Role in the Cause and Treatment of Emotionally Disturbed Girls."

And Judge Paul A. Cote, judge of municipal court, Lewiston, "The family's role in the cause and solution of juvenile delinquency," Mrs. Marjorie Jordan, counselor, department of guidance, Edward Little High School, "The family's role in the cause and solution of drop-outs," and Rev. Joseph Whitlock, Rector, St. Athanasius Church, Rumford, "Alcoholism as it pertains to family deorganization." Comments and questions will follow.

Rev. Donald Hines, minister of the Bethel Methodist Church, will moderate a young people's panel at 3:00. Participants will be Diane Farrar and Clifford York, Woodstock High School, and Paula Frankovez, Richard Jacobs, Judith Jenkins, and Alan Walker, Gould Academy.

Mrs. Ruth Clough will make the summation, and close with roll call.

Luncheon reservations should be made with Mrs. James Houlihan by May 8 if possible.

THE WEEK IN OXFORD COUNTY

The "Doughnut Elm" in Fryeburg became infected with Dutch elm disease. The top of the tree has been topped off. The "doughnut" has been left by expert pruning so it will remain an attraction to tourists. A roof will be erected above the remaining sections and they will be treated with preservative.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Decker of Oxford observed their 50th wedding anniversary Friday. They were married in the South Waterford Parish.

A forest fire of undetermined origin burned over a square mile of land near Mud Pond, Maine, Sunday. Volunteers fought the blaze. Five bulldozers and several forestry pumps were used.

A community survival plan was discussed today, May 7, at Norway. The meeting was held at the Norway Legion Home for Oxford County and town officials. It concerned local government officials and their part in the national fall-out shelter program and survival planning. It was sponsored by the University of Maine Cooperative Extension Service.

The exhibition of paintings by Maine artists at Buckfield High School will be open to the public through Friday.

Over 100 Oxford County residents attended the caucus at the Roadland Motor Hotel, Portland, Friday afternoon. The caucus voted to support Mrs. Louise Lincoln of Bethel.

NOTICE

I will be closed from May 12 through 19.

STATE DIRECTOR OF CONSERVATION EDUCATION DIES

The state director of conservation education, Franklin A. Downie, suffered a coronary thrombosis while driving Tuesday and died in his car beside Interstate Route 93.

He had just left his home in Waterville for his Augusta office and Bryant Pond, where he was preparing for the opening of the conservation camps for the season.

A Presque Isle native, Mr. Downie was graduated from Houlton schools and Colby College and received a master of education degree from the University of Maine in 1937. He taught in the Waterville school system 13 years before joining the State Fish and Game Department in 1954.

Survivors include his parents, his widow, Marjorie McLean Downie, and two daughters, Paula and Deborah.

SNC AWARDS $2 MILLION WORTH OF HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION IN APRIL

The State Highway Commission reports that during the month of April nine highway and bridge construction projects were awarded to an estimated $2,000,000.

Two Interstate Highway sign projects were awarded calling for the fabrication and installation of the necessary information and regulatory signs along the 20 miles of freeway from Fairfield to Newport. All the projects have now been awarded contracts to make open season the section of interstate, which is expected to be opened to traffic this fall.

Proposals for highway construction were awarded calling for new highway, Pittsfield, Newport and Lewiston. The Lewiston project is for the construction of about 2.5 miles of 1 1/2 mile I.A. on new location adjacent of the existing highway. The project also includes the construction of two bridges to carry the new highway over the existing stream.

The work on Pittsfield will consist of the reconstruction of Somerset Avenue and Park Street from Route 100 extending westerly to the interchange with Interstate 93, a distance of about 0.4 of a mile.

The project in Newport calls for the reconstruction of section of combined 1 1/2 mile I.A. and Route 100. The section extends from a point near the center of the Main Street bridge crossing easterly about 0.5 of a mile.

In Lewiston about 0.2 of a mile of Atlantic Street, Route 100, will be rebuilt in the vicinity of Turner's Corner. The major purpose of the work is to increase sight distance at the intersection in order that a hazardous condition may be eliminated.

Three projects calling for the construction of bridges were awarded during the month in Norway. A 60-foot steel and concrete span will be built on new location to carry Route 117 over the outlet to Presque Ponds Lake. It will replace the existing concrete bridge.

Three projects calling for the construction of bridges were awarded during the month in Norway. A 60-foot steel and concrete span will be built on new location to carry Route 117 over the outlet to Presque Ponds Lake. It will replace the existing concrete bridge.

A reconstruction project calls for a new bridge at the point where the old wooden bridge carries Route 100 over the West Branch of the Presque Ponds River between Houlton and the Houlton River. The new structure will consist of a structural plate girder arch with a span of 14 feet to carry the bridge.

On May 1, 1964 the State Highway Commission reported 64 State and Federal Aid projects under various stages of construction. The total estimated cost, including construction, right of way and engineering, amounts to $1,333,573. Summary: 40 State Aid, $1,251,000; 24 Federal Aid, $88,573. State Bridge Aid, $1,175,000; State Project, $1,950,000; State Aid and Federal Aid, $1,100,000. Total estimated cost of $4,264,573.

Report to MAINE

Senator Z. John

Current standings reveal that Maine has risen to fourth among shoe producing states in the nation. Our State currently manufactures more than 53 millions pairs of shoes annually, principally in the cities of Auburn, Lewiston, Bangor, and Skowhegan. Last year 22,200 Maine shoe workers in 40 separate communities grossed wages of over $75 million. This means the shoe industry is the largest manufacturing employer in Maine.

Even with this encouraging data, it is well-known that this industry is beginning to suffer from the sharp increase of foreign shoe imports. I have become increasingly concerned over the effect which the rapid expansion of these imports continues to have on the domestic footwear industry throughout the nation. Maine's contribution is but part of some 1300 factories located in more than 600 communities across the country—the vast majority of which are small towns where shoe manufacturing is the major source of income and employment. There are already signs of the damage which has been done to medium and small manufacturers, the backbone of the shoe business.

It is difficult to compete in an area where so much competition is coming from countries with lower wage scales than ours, particularly in Japan and Italy, where salaries average 36 and 49 cents an hour respectively. But the full magnitude of this problem and the threat which it presents is apparent and becoming acutely severe. It is estimated that if imports continue at the present rate, the entry of 174 million pairs in 1965 will cause the loss of 66,000 job opportunities in shoe manufacturing. For example, women's misses' and children's footwear imports so far this year have totaled 65% higher than 1963. Prices of most imports have dropped over last year's figures.

Thus a situation of immediate and serious proportions has arisen. I have, therefore, joined in taking steps to alleviate the problem, with my colleague Senator Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, and bipartisan representatives of both Houses of Congress.

MELTING SNOWS REVEAL TONS OF TRASH ALONG MAINE HIGHWAYS

Maintenance crews of the State Highway Department look upon this season of the year with conflicting feelings.

The winter chore of plowing, sanding and salting 10,000 miles of Maine highways has come to a close.

"But," said Maintenance Engineer Robert Vickery, "now begins the unpleasant task of cleaning up the debris which lay beneath the cover of snow."

Thoughtless motorists have tossed paper, cans, bottles, boxes, garbage, even old tires and inner tubes into snowdrifts all winter long. Come spring the unsightly mess rears its ugly head.

"Maintenance repairs to pavements and shoulders of highways have top priority," said Vickery.

Robert Vickery, "but as soon as possible each spring certain crews in each of the seven divisions of the SHD begin a concerted attack on the waste accumulation of rubbish."

State Highway Department statisticians reported that over $101,000 was spent last year "cleaning debris from the side of the road." Municipalities around the state spend considerably more than that in caring out their town housekeeping chores each year.

The unpleasant task of picking up Maine roadways is a costly and State of Maine certainly wish it to be done as expeditiously as possible so the Maine highways look their best in the influx of tourists in a few weeks.

During the month of July, 1963, 33 Senators and 235 Congressmen petitioned President Kennedy for assistance to the shoe industry. On behalf of the group of lawmakers, representatives of Congress, including myself, and members of the shoe industry met with the President in October, 1963, and with President Johnson on April 23, 1964.

President Johnson expressed his sympathy toward having the survival of the American Shoe Manufacturing Industry. He indicated he would direct the State Department to arrange discussion of world trade problems between U.S. shoe industry representatives from those nations exporting footwear into the American market. In accordance with the recommendation, Senator Kennedy, Congressman James A. Burke and William H. Bates of Massachusetts, and I, have met with Undersecretary of State, George W. Ball, urging that such a meeting take place at the end of May.

We stressed the importance of the attendance and participation of a responsible officer of the Department of State at the meeting. These meetings are vital to the development of a full comprehension of the problem of the domestic shoe manufacturing industry caused by imports. These problems deserve the attention and advice the presence of such an official because of the close working relationship between industry and government in those importing nations, such participation would be appropriate.

President Johnson has also endorsed the need for a statistical study of shoe imports, as indicated that he would carefully review the two other suggestions made by Senator Kennedy and myself: (1) that footwear items be placed on the tariff list so that no tariff concessions be offered regarding these products during the forthcoming "Kennedy Round" trade negotiations and (2) the quantitative shoe import limitations be negotiated with the principal supplying nations.

Now that significant machinery has been set in motion I am hopeful it will provide substantial assistance to this important domestic industry.

said Vickery, "but as soon as possible each spring certain crews in each of the seven divisions of the SHD begin a concerted attack on the waste accumulation of rubbish."

State Highway Department statisticians reported that over $101,000 was spent last year "cleaning debris from the side of the road." Municipalities around the state spend considerably more than that in caring out their town housekeeping chores each year.

The unpleasant task of picking up Maine roadways is a costly and State of Maine certainly wish it to be done as expeditiously as possible so the Maine highways look their best in the influx of tourists in a few weeks.

"But cleaning up litter," said Vickery, "taken men all equipment away from important maintenance work at our best season."

If litterbugs could learn to mend their ways, the savings to hard cash to Maine taxpayers would be in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

NEW OWNER FOR OXFORD PLAINS SPEEDWAY

Robert Bahre of Suffield, Conn., has recently announced his purchase of the Oxford Plains Speedway, Oxford Plains.

Mr. Bahre, a prominent Connecticut home builder and race car owner, is currently renewing and rebuilding all spectator facilities at the track in anticipation of a May 17th opening.

The track is a one-third mile asphalt and is considered one of the safest in the country for spectators and drivers. Racing programs will be held weekly and will feature both Indianapolis type midgets and stock cars each race day. Sanction will be by the Northeastern Midjet Association of Boston, John McCarthy, president.

The first race will be held on Sunday afternoon, May 17th, and racing will continue each Sunday until June when a switch will be made to Saturday nights.

Race car owners and drivers interested in racing at the Speedway should contact Mr. Bahre at the track or John McCarthy, 47 Francis Avenue, Shrewsbury, Mass.

POPPY DAY - 1964

To rekindle the flame of remembrance for those brave men and women who died in defense of America; to help those who, though living, gave their health and strength in three mighty conflicts; this is the story of Poppy Day, 1964. For gratitude couples with the desire to serve, is a thread which runs glowing and constant through the years-long tradition of Poppy Day.

Poppy Day is ever new, new in terms of increasing devotion to welfare of our disabled veterans and their families; new in reaffirmation of heartfelt gratitude to those who gave their lives in protecting our way of life; new in growing dedication to volunteer service aimed at strengthening our free heritage. These basic tenets of American Legion Auxiliary work are at the heart of every annual Poppy Day observance.

Gratitude for the hard-earned freedoms for which thousands of fighting men gave their lives led Auxiliary members more than four decades ago to establish the first Poppy Day as a tribute to our war dead. The brilliant scarlet poppy which grew in profusion in the battlefields of France and Flanders in World War I was chosen as the symbol of this memorial event celebrated in most communities throughout the nation in the week before Memorial Day.

Poppy Day in Bethel will be observed on Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23, according to Mrs. Stephanie Thurston, president of Mundt-Allen Unit, of the Auxiliary which sponsors the event each year locally.

Poppies which will be distributed throughout the town by volunteer Auxiliary members on these dates have been fashioned by disabled veterans who receive payment for their work. Auxiliary members provide all material for making the poppies free of charge. All other work done in connection with the event is on a volunteer basis.

Contributions received by volunteer Auxiliary members who offer poppies to passersby on street corners on Poppy Day will be used exclusively for veteran rehabilitation and child welfare work. Most of the funds donated in this area remain here for veterans rehabilitation and child welfare work.

Disabled veterans numbering from 6,000 upwards begin their work of fashioning the poppies in the Autumn months preceding the observance of Poppy Day in the Spring. If they have never made the blossoms before they are taught by Auxiliary volunteers who spend over a million hours yearly in this and other services to hospitalized veterans. Payments to veterans for their work totals $300,000 annually.

Poppies worn by 20 million Americans in annual tribute use 10,680 miles of crepe paper and 3,500 miles of wire.
